

Bremen University's English-Language Drama Group

Our next dramatic production is scheduled to be performed in early June 2017. Auditions for this new project will be on outside GW2 B3200 (the 'StugaRaum').

Tuesday, 17th January 2017 at 6 p.m. (s.t.!)

Anyone interested in taking part in the project in any way is required to attend, whether they have been in the group before or not.

Those who would like to act and haven't taken part in a Parlement of Foules production before are requested to bring a short piece in English (e.g. a monologue) to perform before the assembled gathering, to demonstrate your acting & speaking abilities with a text familiar to you. This will presumably mean moving about, if and where suitable... (You are not required to learn your text by heart!) It is also totally possible for two people to pair up in advance and perform a dialogue together. After everyone has presented their piece, each person will be asked to do a bit of improvisation (acting and language) with someone else selected from the crowd.

If you are interested in doing non-acting work, e.g. music, make-up, costumes, stage-crew and set construction, publicity, lighting, sound, please come along as well and/or contact Michael Claridge in advance (see below).

We will discuss possible projects for the Workshop for next semester – for which up to 18 practical-language credit points can be awarded, depending on the scope of your work! We will also agree on a date for the first read-through and casting of the text. The meeting should be over by 9 p.m. at the latest... unless we have a massive crowd of new people!

If you cannot make this time, please see and/or contact Michael before 13th January (e.g. office hour on Wednesday, 11th January, 12-1.45 p.m.; email (which I occasionally even read...) at claridge@uni-bremen.de).
